

STATINTL

DRAFT [REDACTED]
11 December 1972

25X1A2D1 If there is some particular advantage or compelling reason for transferring [REDACTED] from the Office of Training to the Clandestine Service on 1 January 1973, it certainly can be accomplished. There are some administrative and bureaucratic considerations, however, which suggest that 1 July 1973 would be a more convenient time.

We are interested in ensuring that support [REDACTED] continues 25X1A2D1 at the same level and quality as in the past. We have no concern about the ability to do this as long as the requirements for support do not grow beyond those which have been the pattern. We believe we can get this insurance in the most business-like fashion with the most amicable working level relationships if all foreseeable ramifications of the support arrangements are understood by all parties and recorded ahead of time for their benefit. Some of 25X1A the nuances which should be subject to agreement ahead of time relate to
